

FORCE FOR GOOD

On BUFFALO PATROL

Martin (Marty) Paulsen has been volunteering as a Scout leader for about 11 years. Every year Marty leads a group of eager 11-year-old scouts into the Cucamonga Wilderness in southern San Bernardino County. Their destination is the Third Stream Crossing on Lytle Creek. It's a 2.5 mile hike, uphill all the way. The reward is a 40-foot water fall that the boys can play in. They camp for the night and then hike out the next day. The kids love it. Marty doesn't have any children of his own in the program but enjoys volunteering and leading these young men on great adventures.
